Clinical Trial: Leg Ischemia

Patient Name: Rodney Schoenhardt
Metairie, LA

Description of Condition Prior to Adult Stem Cell Therapy:

Mr. Schoenhardt reported as having suffered severe leg pain for more than a decade. Admittedly, he had waited too long to seek medical care. By the time he visited TCA Cellular Therapy, he was confined to a wheelchair with severe leg ischemic pain, numbness in his foot and gangrene on his toes. All conventional medical treatments had been exhausted and his physician had recommended lower leg amputation.

Treatment:

Approximately two weeks prior to his infusion, Mr. Schoenhardt's bone marrow was withdrawn from his iliac crest (rear hip).

The cells were separated, cleaned, tested and multiplied approximately over a two week period utilizing a TCA-developed protocol.

Following the clinical trial protocol...the severe ischemic leg was injected with Mr. Schoenhardt's own multiplied adult stem cells.

After Treatment:

Mr. Schoenhardt reported on the third day following the infusion, he could actually feel something 'firing off' in his leg. "The pain was gone and I could feel something tingling in my leg."

Follow Up Visit:

The gangrene is gone and Mr. Schoenhardt walks without assistance.

Testimonial:

"After my doctor told me I would need to have my leg amputated, I was ready to head to Italy or some other foreign country to get stem cells. I'm very thankful for my mother. Dr. Lasala is her cardiologist at Tchefuncte Cardiovascular Associates. She told me about his research company and the clinical trials going on in my own backyard."

"Politicians need to stop bickering about healthcare and pay more attention to adult stem cell research. I'm living proof that stem cells work. This pain disabled me for years. I'd be a depressed, one-legged man if it weren't for Dr. Lasala. I think this is going to make a bigger splash than aspirin."

"I haven't been able to cut my grass in about twelve years. I am now able to cut half of my backyard without taking a rest."

“My house has needed repairs since Katrina. My wife is thrilled that I am now able to fix it up. I’ve completely redone one room and the fence. The kitchen counters are next.”

“Prior to my health issues, I was a Certified Master Technician. I could take a car apart and put it back together. It was hard on me last year when I had to sell my truck. Before I knew about Dr. Lasala, I figured that I would never be able to drive again. Now I walk everywhere and am looking forward to buying my next vehicle.”
